AMERICAN ATHLETIC CONFERENCE

#AMERICANPOWER

The American Athletic Conference consists of 12 prestigious institutions: the University of Central Florida, the University of Cincinnati, East Carolina University, the University of Connecticut, the University of Houston, the University of Memphis, the U.S. Naval Academy (in football only), the University of South Florida, Southern Methodist University, Temple University, Tulane University and the University of Tulsa.

Under the leadership of commissioner Mike Aresco, the American Athletic Conference has written an impressive list of accomplishments, both in the competitive arena and the classroom. In the course of its first three seasons, The American has taken its place at the forefront of intercollegiate athletics, with a collection of national team and individual championships and football and men's and women's basketball postseason victories that place The American among the elite Division I FBS conferences.

The league has produced four NCAA championship teams – UConn men's basketball in 2014 and UConn women's basketball in 2014, 2015 and 2016 – two New Year's Six bowl champions, and two individuals who have won NCAA titles, most recently SMU's Bryson Dechambeau, who was the 2015 national champion in men's golf. Additionally, American Athletic Conference teams have advanced to the College World Series, reached the semifinal and final rounds of the NIT, qualified for the match play round of the NCAA Men's Golf Championship and registered a top-10 finish at the NCAA Outdoor Track and Field Championship.

The American Athletic Conference was one of six finalists for the 2016 Sports Business Journal Sports League of the Year award, along with Major League Baseball, Major League Soccer, NASCAR, the National Basketball Association and the PGA Tour. The American was the only entity from college athletics to be so honored.

In football, three American Athletic Conference teams were in the final College Football Playoff rankings of 2015, while two teams from The American were ranked in the top 20 of the final national polls in both 2013 and 2015. Eight of The American's 12 football teams played in bowl games to cap the 2015 season as Houston defeated Florida State in the Chick-Fil-A Peach Bowl and Navy beat Pittsburgh in the Military Bowl. Houston's finish at No. 8 nationally gave The American a top-10 team in the final national polls for the second time in the league's three seasons. UCF finished No. 10 in the 2013 rankings after the Knights' Fiesta Bowl win against Baylor.

In 2014, The American had the best men's basketball postseason record of any league, when conference teams were a combined 13-4, and the league sent four teams to the 2016 NCAA Championship. Teams from The American have registered top-10 national rankings in football, men's basketball, women's basketball, baseball, men's soccer, men's golf, and men's track and field.

Individual teams in The American have enjoyed unprecedented success since the conference's formation. Houston went 13-1 in the 2015 football season, setting a school record for wins, while Navy won a program-record 11 games in its first season in the conference, also in 2015. The 2014 season saw Memphis finish with 10 wins in football for the first time since 1938, while Temple enjoyed its first 10-win season in 2015.

American Athletic Conference student-athletes have distinguished themselves in all facets of intercollegiate athletics. Temple linebacker Tyler Matakevich won the Bednarik Award and the Nagurski Trophy as the nation's top defensive player in 2015, while Navy quarterback Keenan Reynolds finished fifth in the Heisman Trophy voting. UConn basketball standout Breanna Stewart finished her career as the most decorated player in college basketball history as she was chosen as the consensus national player of the year for the third time and became the first player to be named four times as the Most Outstanding Player at the Final Four.

Reynolds and Stewart were selected as the winners of the 2016 AAU James E. Sullivan Award as the nation's top amateur athletes, marking only the second time in the 86-year history of the award that multiple winners were chosen.

Additionally, SMU's Avery Ackers was chosen as the Division I women's volleyball Academic All-America of the Year in 2015, while Navy offensive guard E.K. Binns was one of 12 finalists nationally for the Campbell Trophy, which is presented by the National Football Foundation to the top scholar-athlete in college football. Tulsa soccer standout Katy Riojas was the winner of the 2016 NCAA Walter Byers Postgraduate Scholarship, while Golden Hurricane rower Emalia Seto won the 2016 NCAA Jim McKay Scholarship. Two student-athletes from The American earned NCAA Postgraduate Scholarships in the conference's first three years.

The American Athletic Conference holds media rights partnerships with ESPN and CBS Sports which provide the conference with outstanding national exposure on the two industry leaders in sports television. The football portion of the contract calls for nearly 90 percent of conference-controlled games on national broadcast or national cable platforms. The first American Athletic Conference Football Championship, which was played in 2015, was televised by ABC as part of Championship Saturday.

The American Athletic Conference serves its membership from a state-of-the-art office located in Providence, R.I. The location of the conference headquarters – just steps from the city's Amtrak station and 10 minutes from T.F. Green International Airport – gives the conference easy access to its member schools. The conference headquarters is equipped with a complete video production studio, which serves as the home of The American Digital Network, and meeting rooms to accommodate the many coaches' and administrators' meetings held on-site each year.

The most in-depth coverage of the 2016 American Athletic Conference season can be found on The American Digital Network, the over the-top streaming video platform of The American and its 12 member institutions.

The American has extended its partnership with L2 Productions to provide video production services for more than 65 events annually on The American Digital Network through the 2018-19 academic year.

The American and L2 Productions have collaborated on live video production of regular-season and championship events for the past two years. The American Digital Network produced 54 live events in 2014-15 and plans to showcase at least 60 for the 2015-16 season. All events are carried by professional-grade, multiple-camera productions which include accomplished play-by-play announcers and expert analysts.

As a result of the partnership, The American Digital Network will provide complete live video coverage of The American's postseason championships in cross country, swimming and diving, indoor track and field, outdoor track and field, and rowing.

The ADN will also provide coverage of any games of the conference's women's soccer, men's soccer, softball and baseball championships that are not carried by one of the conference's television partners.

Additionally, The American Digital Network will provide coverage of regular-season women's basketball games as well as select regular-season contests in soccer, volleyball, softball and baseball.

The ADN will have full wraparound coverage of The American's postseason championships in football and men's and women's basketball.

In addition to its coverage of regular-season and championship events,

The American Digital Network is the home for on demand previews and game highlights as well as "The Rise," a weekly look at the conference that includes scores, highlights and feature stories.

All of The American Digital Network productions are available on desktop, tablet, mobile and Roku devices at no charge. The ADN will include DVR functionality and immediate access to archived replays beginning in the 2016-17 season.

CHAMPIONSHIP FORMAT

For the 2016 season, The American has adopted a new championship format. The league's 10 members in women's soccer compete in one division with six teams qualifying for the 2016 American Athletic Conference Championship.

UConn will serve as host for the first round (Nov. 2) semifinals (Nov. 4), and the final (Nov. 6). The tournament champion receives the league's automatic berth into the 64-team NCAA Division I Women's Soccer Championship.

JOSEPH J. MORRONE STADIUM STORRS, CONN.

The 2016 American Athletic Conference Women's Soccer Championship will be decided at the home of the UConn Huskies, Joseph J. Morrone in Storrs, Conn. First round matches will take place on Wednesday, Nov. 2, followed by the semifinals on Friday Nov. 4, and the championship game on Sunday, Nov. 6.

In 2013, top-seed UCF downed Rutgers in penalty kicks to capture The American's automatic qualifier. The final and both semifinals were scoreless draws decided in penalty kicks. The weekend produced three teams in the NCAA Championship, as UCF and Rutgers were joined by Louisville in the field of 64.

In 2014, No. 4 seed UConn upset the 2014 regular-season champion and top-seeded UCF in the semifinals, 1-0. The Huskies proceeded to advance past No. 3 seed USF in the final, 3-2 in penalty kicks, after a scoreless draw to claim The American tournament championship. For the second consecutive year, three American Athletic Conference teams extended their seasons to play in the NCAA tournament. UCF, UConn and USF all earned bids to the NCAA College Cup, with UCF advancing to the third round before being eliminated by the eventual national champion, Florida State.

Cincinnati took the Lone Star State by storm in the 2015 championship. The Bearcats won an overtime thriller against the regular season champions, the UConn Huskies 3-2 to advance to the semifinals. On the other side of the bracket, No. 2 seed USF Bulls defeated the UCF Knights 1-0 in a double overtime feat. In the championship match, Cincinnati upset USF on penalty kicks as the Bearcats won 4-2. A conference record four teams extended their season as they played in the 2015 Women's College Cup. UConn, Cincinnati, UCF, and USF all earned bids to the NCAA tournament with UConn advancing to the third round before being eliminated by Rutgers
