INTERACTION WITH PROSPECTS

The NCAA defines a "prospective student-athlete" as any student who is not in the eighth grade or who has not been accepted by a school as a student-athlete. This definition includes any student-athlete attending high school and junior college. Prospects are defined as any student who meets the criteria for being a prospective student-athlete. Prospects are not eligible to receive offers or interest from collegiate coaches. Prospects may receive interest or contact from collegiate coaches, but they are not eligible for recruitment. Prospects may receive information about the process of becoming a collegiate student-athlete from their coaches.

1. No Contact with Prospects or their Families:

   - Coaches may not contact prospects or their families, including but not limited to:
     - Calling or texting a prospect or their family
     - Sending a direct message to a prospect or their family
     - Having any contact with a prospect or their family

2. Social Media:

   - Coaches may not engage in any social media interactions with prospects. This includes but is not limited to:
     - Posting a message on a prospect's "wall," "liking," or "favoriting" a prospect's post/tweet
     - Replying to or "retweeting" a prospect's tweet, sending a direct message to a prospect, or any other social media interactions with a prospect.
